

The Emperor Allergens Information

Our Allergen Menu details information on the ingredients for all dishes. While we do our best to reduce the risk of cross-contact in our busy kitchen, we CANNOT guarantee that any of our dishes are 100% allergen free.

We regret to inform that our dishes are not suitable for guests with severe allergies and or intolerances.

This information provided should not be considered as a form of guarantee, and guests with severe allergies and intolerances should always assess their own level of risk before making an order.

Allergens Information

This guide lists what allergenic ingredients are contained in each of our dishes, marked with a red dot. You may be asking why our list of dishes contain such an extensive amount of allergens, but please be advised that it does not mean we put all the specified allergenic ingredient in the dishes when preparing or cooking our food.

So what does it mean?

1. Sometimes a specific ingredient may not be labelled on our menu but it may be found in a sauce that is used to prepare or marinade.
2. Some dishes are fried in oil that is used to fry other dishes that include allergenic ingredient.
3. Some of our ingredients are packed in a facility that also processes other allergenic ingredient.
For Example: You may have seen food labels that state 'May contain traces of nuts'.
This means cross-contact from an outside source is possible.
4. Our dishes are prepared in areas in which allergenic ingredients are present.

We want to make sure that the safety of our customers is taken seriously, and since we cannot guarantee that our dishes are 100% free of these allergenic ingredients as stated in the reasons above, we have updated the chart accordingly.
